(54) Title: METHOD AND SYSTEM FOR READING DATA

(57) Abstract: A system and a method are described for reading data from a document and a method of detecting data. To read data which are present in volatile (i.e. time-variable) and weakly structured documents (e.g. HTML pages), a system with a computer having indicator and input means for operation by a user is proposed. The computer can access at least one document. The computer runs a program by which at least one first input by the user is processed with which a data range of the document to be read is fixed. The program automatically creates an extract instruction for reading the fixed data range. The extract instruction can, for example, be stored. When executing the extract instruction, the fixed data range of the document is read. This can be iterated with time intervals.

A. CLASSIFICATION OF SUBJECT MATTER

IPC 7 G06F17/30

According to International Patent Classification (IPC) or to both national classification and IPC

B. FIELDS SEARCHED

Minimum documentation searched (classification system followed by classification symbols)

IPC 7 G06F

Documentation searched other than minimum documentation to the extent that such documents are included in the fields searched

Electronic data base consulted during the international search (name of data base and, where practical, search terms used)

EPO-Internal, WPI Data, PAJ, IBM-TDB, INSPEC

* Special categories of cited documents :

- A document defining the general state of the art which is not considered to be of particular relevance
- E earlier document but published on or after the international filing date
- L documents which may throw doubts on priority claim(s) or which are cited to establish the publication date of another document for special reason (as specified)
- O document referring to an oral disclosure, use, exhibition or other means
- P document published prior to the international filing date but later than the priority date claimed

- T later document published after the international filing date or priority date and not in conflict with the application but cited to understand the principle or theory underlying the invention
- X document of particular relevance; the claimed invention cannot be considered novel or cannot be considered to involve an inventive step when the document is taken alone
- Y document of particular relevance; the claimed invention cannot be considered to involve an inventive step when the document is combined with one or more other such documents, such combination being obvious to a person skilled in the art
- Z document member of the same patent family
